SIMPLE HINTS INSURING SUCCESS WITH CAMELLIAS

When planting camellias select a well-drained semi-shaded place—complete shade is not advised. The hole for the plant should be double the width of the ball and at least two inches deeper.

The soil should be enriched by the addition of well-decayed dairy fertilizer. Put enough of this prepared soil in the hole to bring the grown roots about 3 inches below the surface. Be sure the soil is well packed around the roots, and water thoroughly.

Each spring give the plants a 2-inch mulch of well-chopped fresh dairy fertilizer. During the summer season plants should be mulched with oak leaves. Keep the soil moist, but not saturated—camellias do not like “Wet Feet”. General pruning must be done in February. Cut out all closely grown and dead branches.

Camellias may be attacked by red spider, which causes the foliage to brown. The pest may be controlled by spraying with “Volk,” Jr. or Bordeaux Mixture—either will give good results. Spray on cloudy days, as bright sun will cause the leaves to burn.

CULTURAL INFORMATION ON AZALEAS

Azaleas of any variety are easily grown if you follow a few suggestions on the culture of the plants.

Soil with an acid reaction is most favorable. Add a sufficient amount of leaf-mold or peat moss.

Poison is produced from a lime or alkaline soil. Previous to planting in such soil remove the original soil and add plenty of leaf-mold or peat moss mixed with soil which should contain no alkali.

Sufficient water is necessary to keep the roots moist, but do not let them stand in surplus water. Draining will be necessary.

Avoid a dense shade—better results are obtained from azaleas growing in partial shade. A lath-house is satisfactory.

You will find that azaleas do not require a great deal of commercial fertilizer, if plenty of leaf-mold or peat moss has been applied. A light fertilizer, as cotton seed meal, is a favorable process.

In some instances red spider and thrips injure the plants; spraying with sulphur will eliminate this trouble.

Azaleas can be moved at any time during the year, but we recommend they be moved before they come into bloom, that is, September through February. In doing this you will have the benefit of the flowers the first year. Also the plants will have become established in the ground before summer heat.

AZALEA INDICA

This species of Azalea is a rapid-growing plant with masses of large, beautiful flowers. They are mostly adapted for landscape planting and for gardening especially along the Gulf Coast extending as far up the Atlantic Seaboard as North Carolina. To Mobilians, Azalea Indica is the pride of the city. No pruning is required after they are well established in their surroundings. It will be on a plant that will be very complimentary to your nurseries and will be an advertisement in itself.
